L'ESTRÉE DE PAYSANCS PRÈS DU VILLAGE DE RIBÉTIER.

- 16 Duperrey, Louis Isidore. VOYAGE AUTOUR DU MONDE, Exécute par Ordre du Roi, Sur la Corvette de Sa Majeste, La Coquille, pendant les années 1822, 1823, 1824 et 1825, Sous le Ministère de S. E. M. le Marquis de Clermont-Tonnerre, et publiée sous les auspices de son excellence M. le Cte. de Chabrol, Ministre de la Marine et des Colonies, par L. I. Duperrey, Chevalier de St. Louis et de la Legion d'Honneur, Capitaine de Fregate, Commandant de l'Expedition. Histoire du Voyage. ATLAS. Paris, Arthus Bertrand, Libraire-Editeur, rue Hautefeuille, No. 23. 1826. Super royal folio; engraved title and 60 engraved plates, 59 of these in the most superb hand-colouring, some also partly printed in colours; (a short repaired tear to margin only of first plate, not affecting image; a couple of plates with light diffuse spotting; extreme margins of a few others lightly dust-soiled or mildly frayed); bound in quarter morocco, with papered sides, the original printed wrapper mounted on front board, together with an original livraison label; a fine, generally clean copy; rare. Paris; Arthus Bertrand; 1826. Ferguson 1069; Hill 2, No. 517; Hocken, page 42; Sabin 21353; Borba de Moraes, page 275. The work is one of the rarer French voyages and the plates include 9 of New Zealand and its inhabitants, 19 of New Guinea and the neighbouring islands, 10 of the Caroline Islands, and 14 superb plates of Tahiti and the Society Islands. Of the plates 39 were drawn by Lejeune & Chazal, 15 by Chazal alone, 2 by de Blosseville & Chazal, 3 by Duperrey & Chazal and 1 by Duperrey. The very fine engraving was done entirely by Ambroise Tardieu, both the engraving and the colouring is of the highest standard and these plates are amongst the finest ever produced, in any country and at any time. The title-page also is a work of art, designed by C. F. Ermeler and engraved by Abel Malo. Duperrey was captain of the "Uranie" on de Freycinet's voyage, and in charge of hydrographic research on that expedition. He was appointed to command of the new expedition in 1822 and allocated the corvette "La Coquille", with Dumont d'Urville as second-in-command. The purpose of this new voyage was to be scientific and on the 11th August the ship left Toulon with a young crew, only Duperrey himself, Dumont d'Urville and another officer being over 30. The expedition called first at Brazil and went then to the Falklands, where they saw the rock which had proved the undoing of the "Uranie". After a short stay to repair the ship and make botanical and other observations, the "Coquille" rounded Cape Horn and called at Concepcion in Chile where the poverty of the inhabitants appalled Duperrey. The expedition then continued to Peru and into the Pacific to the Tuamotus where a new island was discovered and named Clermont-Tonnerre, but is now known as Reao. At Tahiti they found that European influences had had a profound effect on the natives, although some of the missionary puritanism was apparently only skin deep. After passing Niue the ship was affected by adverse weather and only after much backtracking did the expedition reach the Solomons from where they headed for Amboina in the Dutch East Indies, and thence to Timor. They next visited Port Jackson and then New Zealand where the Maoris were reported to be accomplished thieves and anxious to procure firearms with which to murder their compatriots. At Rotuma, however they found the natives more congenial if no less thievishly inclined. They made some new discoveries in the Gilbert Islands and more in the Carolines but the names assigned have not been retained. After sailing along the New Guinea coast and through the Indonesian islands to Surabaya which they left after two weeks the expedition returned via Mauritius, Bourbon and St. Helena where a romantic pilgrimage was made to Napoleon's residence, which was however in a bad state of repair. This fact however is not particularly evident in the fine plate of this building in this Atlas Histoire. Although the new geographical discoveries were not great, the hydrographic work was of a very high standard and corrected many errors on the earlier charts. The scientific achievements were no less important: meteorological observations of sea and air temperatures and atmospheric pressure were taken six times daily over the entire period of 31 months and important measurements of magnetic variation were made. As with the other French voyages a massive collection of specimens was brought back to France, including 300 geological samples, 1200 insects of which 450 were not previously available, as well as over 300 birds, mammals and reptiles, and nearly 300 fishes, 80 being new to science. The anthropological observations were also very extensive and the drawings of artefacts, weapons and clothing were particularly comprehensive, many of these being illustrated in the atlases, some of which are shown in this Atlas Histoire.

- 17 Elkin, A. P.; Firth, Raymond; Radcliffe-Brown, A. R. & Lawrence, Peter; Editors. OCEANIA. A Journal Devoted to The Study of the Native Peoples of Australia, New Guinea and the Islands of the Pacific Ocean. 53 volumes each of 4 parts from Vol. 1, No. 1. to Vol. 53, No. 4 complete; cr. 4to & med. 8vo; pp. in total approx. 20,000; very numerous plates, maps, diags. & other illusts., some folding & incl. 2 col. plates (in Vols. 13 & 36), bibliogs., refs., etc.; all volumes bound, without wrappers in light-blue and mid-blue binder's buckram; a fine, complete run; very scarce. Sydney; University of Sydney; 1930-1982. The first three issues of this most important Journal were edited by A. R. Radcliffe-Brown. It was then edited by Raymond Firth until Volume III, No. 2 and from March 1933 (Volume III, No. 3) until 1979 (Volume 50, No. 1) by A. P. Elkin. A vast quantity of important anthropological research relating to the Australian Aborigines and the Native Peoples of New Guinea and the Pacific Islands is contained in this fine, and complete run.

Volume I, Nos. 1 and 4, and Volumes 17-25, 28, 30-32, 34-35 and 37 are present in the facsimile form issued by Kraus Reprint in 1971 while all the remaining issues are the first printings. There are marginal stains or minor marginal adhesion damage to a few plates of a few of the early parts as is almost invariably the case, this damage having occurred at The University of Sydney. The set is however in the main in fine condition. Most parts are out-of-print and many have been so for many years and are exceedingly scarce and difficult to obtain. 212 parts in 53 volumes, fully bound. #52163 A$5500.00

- 30 [Haweis, Thomas; Editor]. A MISSIONARY VOYAGE TO THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC OCEAN, performed in the Years 1796, 1797, 1798, in the Ship Duff, commanded by Captain James Wilson. Compiled from Journals of the Officers and the Missionaries; and illustrated with Maps, Charts, and Views, drawn by Mr. William Wilson, and engraved by the most eminent Artists. With a Preliminary Discourse on the Geography and History of the South Sea Islands; and an Appendix, including Details never before published, of the Natural and Civil State of Otaheite; by a Committee appointed for the Purpose by the Directors of the Missionary Society.

- Published for the Benefit of the Society. London: Printed by S. Gosnell, for T. Chapman, No. 151, Fleet Street. 1799. Med. 4to, Best Issue of First Edition, pp. [xii], c, 420, [12] (Subscribers' Names); 7 maps & charts (5 folding), 6 plates, appendix (on Otaheitian government, society, inhabitants, deities, customs, natural history, etc.); half navy blue morocco, with moire cloth sides (small trifling mark on front cover; slight scuffing of spine); a fine, clean copy, entirely uncut, with the original paper title-label preserved on inside front board; scarce in such condition. London; Printed by S. Gosnell, for T. Chapman; 1799. Ferguson 301; Hill 2, 1894; . The first and preferred of two closely similar editions bearing the same date, this being of slightly larger format and printed on better quality paper. Another edition bearing the imprint "Printed for T. Chapman ... by T. Gillet" and with a completely different set of subscriber's names, was issued almost simultaneously (see Ferguson 302). The purpose of employing two printers appears to have been to ensure the speedy production of sufficient copies to meet the demand. This important work is the account of the first English missionary enterprise in the South Seas. The hostility of the natives at Tahiti and Tonga caused many of the missionaries to seek refuge at Sydney. Some of them settled in Australia "and founded families important in Australian history". William Wilson was Chief Mate on the voyage. Apart from its missionary interest the work contains much valuable information on Tahiti, Fiji and the Marquesas. The Duff Group in the Santa Cruz islands was newly discovered on this voyage. #2293 A$2850.00

- L. Hachette et Cie.; 1870. Not in Hocken; Bagnall 4778; Spence 959; Ferguson 14751. A second edition, very similar, was issued later in the same year and a third in 1873, with fourth and fifth editions in 1877 and 1882 respectively. An English translation was published in 1874. These later editions are all more common than this first edition which is quite elusive. The book is an account of the wreck of the schooner Grafton (Captain Musgrave), by one of the survivors. Raynal was Mate and this account is taken from his diary. He also recounts his early life including eleven years spent on the Australian goldfields. The Appendix includes a short account of the loss of the Invercauld in the Auckland Isles by Captain Dalgarno, and a relation of the wreck of the General Grant. #36106 A$450.00

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS:

This is our third short list. We hope you find something of interest.

We intend to produce many more in future on a variety of subjects and we would prefer where possible to send these by email as PDF file attachments.

This has the obvious advantage of reducing costs and enhancing the speed of delivery.

The email/PDF versions will also generally be enhanced by colour illustrations.

Likewise we encourage you to send orders by email or telephone.

If you would like to receive future lists please indicate your interests by email (preferred) or using the form overleaf by fax or post. If you would like to receive ALL lists (email only) please let us know also.

If for any reason you do not wish to receive any more of these lists, also please let us know and we will cease and desist.
